Dear sir:

Like a leaking vessel the apparently illegal and patently suffocating behaviors represent an assault, perhaps not unprecedented but in breadth and scope ,or any way you would choose to characterize this matter balanced against the facts an accomplished blatant assault. That a perversion of the sense of fair play formerly ingrained above any power of any law in the ordinary intercourse of American life has occurred ,is beyond doubt and lamentably so. The seeping and leaking of this twisted crushing conspiracy to lay waste to honest vendors in a warlike and the subsequent loss of honest exchange is pretty much beyond any defense in 1997. The thought of investing in a superior product seems to have failed to appear as a strategic position of sufficient value to these ladies and gentlemen . I could hardly fail to mention that the organization has lost in every court they have stepped foot in every way and manner presented in this matter.

The history of dilatory and delaying complaints lain before the courts is another example of the stupendous resources available to this seemingly obvious criminal enterprise .By these actions one see's the scorched earth mentality of men and women at war. These matter's to a man who spent an entire life in fair competition for an ordinary compensation provide as with the Enron debacle a failure of American values as expressed through our history in the political arm's of government. Those who would become a government by fiat through the strangulation of free enterprise and speech are no longer restrained by moral or ethical suasion's if in fact they ever are ,but more astonishingly the legal system has denied relief through justice delayed .The price we pay for permitting bullies to swagger are becoming stylish to frown upon ,but I think the public awareness is easily manipulated by time, time which has no virtue to clean the filthy but to put the odor perhaps out of probity. Here again the means of this organization to place itself beyond the law through the applications of what appears to the native mind massive exertion a staggering 666 millions in legal fee's this year, for them a trifle ,which they possess only by their robbing the consumers of our country and our world with the strange compliance of our perhaps fatally weak political system , paralyzed by money not argument.

That there is no reasonable argument to satisfy the relevant facts against them ,has lead to it is fair to say , an open warfare on those less strong ,some of whom may not have been the best at least they were not laughable. That by hardening their attitude while thumbing their nose at the institutions of American life and forcing our society to be drained of their qualities and vigor by the inevitable collapse of intelligence ,as compared to the robust nature of competition's inspiring branches of thought and improvement not even dreamed of ,to support this endeavor of government by fiat and the fracturing of economy to what has become insecure ,and the weakest of splinters.Virtually no avenue of restraint of trade has failed to be exercised by the people of this software company. The dizzying scope of low minded bullying, predatory practices ,revolts any sense of dignity or decency, and regard for American virtues and essence's of fair play ,and English common law which levels the legal profession to every walk of life with a blind eye to privilege as determined by the makers of the law not the makers of money and the subsequent privilege.

I have read the complaint and I have watched for years in sorrow as the mediocre software pushed on the world that has cost all of our friends and ourselves the freedoms of strength in access to knowledge and information by what in any simple analysis is by far the costliest system to use in wasting of power of computer system drives with leaky ,and from poorly written programs ,requiring systems to live within a narrow form of communication that stands alone in reflecting the American will to embrace all culture denied. Taken as a direct cause of the effect one can see how difficult it might be for an outsized behemoth to repress it's singular wish to mold every face in it's image.However it is seen that this is as a poor way to write software or any other fine cultural artifact as appears in recent or further memory .I believe that in the end the common sense of ordinary people like myself struggling all our lives for our families with little time or energy left at the end of a long day with no secretaries to pick up the slack can see that any endeavor suffer's when not requiring devotion to it's subject as opposed to subjecting it's objects,and those objects would be us.

Sincerely Frederick Royce Perez.
